

WWW.BEINGFATIMAHTALIAH.COM

FATIMAH TALIAH

FATIMAHTALIAH@GMAIL.COM

50K

ORGANIC
WEEKLY
REACH

Former model Fatimah Taliah is a Chicago born comedienne, writer and actress. She is quirky, sassy, radiant and possess amongst other super powers a fantastic bullshit detector. Fatimah has starred and co-starred in a variety of roles on shows such as “Life in pieces” (CBS), Goliath (Amazon) and the upcoming movie with Andrew Garfield “Under the Silver Lake”.

In addition to her acting career, Fatimah Taliah has a large following on social media performing her own written, directed and edited sketches. Her most popular sketch “Moesha in the millennium” is a diary sketch spoof off of the 90s hit tv series “Moesha” in which she gives her personal take on life’s ups and downs.

Fatimah Taliah takes her sketches and writing ability to the stage. She has performed a relatable and bold stand-up comedy routine at the Hollywood Improv, the Comedy Store, the House of Blues, the Laugh Factory and more. Fatimah recently shined on TruTV’s Laffmobb Lafftracks. In 2018 she made a big impression in several network showcases for Comedy Central, NBC, SNL and CBS.

As a writer Fatimah Taliah wrote for the CBS Diversity Sketch Comedy Showcase in 2015 which led to her working as a staff writer for Kevin Hart’s LOL network “Savage News”, Super Deluxe’s “Weird Science” and her own project “The Life and Time of Samantha Jane”.

